Verification of Identity

The Anti-Money Laundering and Counter-Terrorism Financing Act 2006 requires Baptist Financial Services (BFS) to confirm and verify the identity of the entity and authorised signatories before:

- an account can be opened in the name of the business entity;
- the business entity is eligible to lodge funds into an account; or
- a signatory can become an authorised signatory to the business account.

To enable us to confirm and verify the identity of the authorised signatories and beneficial owners, BFS may disclose personal information such as their name, date of birth, and address to a credit reporting agency (CRA) to obtain an assessment of whether that personal information matches information held by the CRA. The CRA may check the information with the document issuer or official record holder. The CRA may give BFS a report on that assessment and to do so may use personal information about the signatory and other individuals in their files. If BFS is unable to verify any signatory's identity using information held by a CRA, BFS will provide them with a notice to this effect. They may take the opportunity to contact the CRA to update the information held by them. They must also arrange verification of their identity using an alternative method acceptable to BFS.
